

HEALTH AND SAFETY AT WORK REGULATIONS

Blue-Tide

adopts a very careful approach to this area of its operation to try and ensure that it conforms to the requirements of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974, as well as COSHH and other regulations.

All personnel are trained to make a positive contribution to the health and safety aspects of their working procedures and environment.

Supervisors and managers are trained to recognise potential problems and to deal effectively with all situations.

Cleaning machinery is regularly tested for safety and all chemicals and cleaning materials are carefully controlled and selected for each contract. All staff are trained in the safe handling and use of materials and machinery.

Health and safety is an important aspect of our work and one which reinforces our code of quality practice. We maintain a watching brief on this area and continue to be ahead of current legislative requirements.